

ANDRÉA BELLIGER, DAVID J. KRIEGER

Network Publicity Governance

On Privacy and the Informational Self

[transcript]

Table of Contents

Introduction | 7

1. Information | 23

- 1.1 The Question of Technology | 23
- 1.2 The Difference a Stone Makes | 25
- 1.3 Technical Mediation | 27
- 1.4 Links, Interfaces, Associations | 33
- 1.5 What is Information? | 37
- 1.6 Information and Networks | 40

2. The Privacy Paradox | 45

- 2.1 Misuse of Personal Information | 48
- 2.2 Surveillance | 50
- 2.3 Secrecy | 57
- 2.4 Targeting | 59
- 2.5 Gaming the System | 62
- 2.6 Political Profiling | 63
- 2.7 The Privacy Paradox | 65

3. Publicity | 77

- 3.1 Publicity not Privacy is the Default Condition | 78
- 3.2 Affordances and the Socio-Technical Ensemble | 82
- 3.3 Participatory Culture | 86
- 3.4 The Socio-Sphere | 92
- 3.5 Reconstructing Neoinstitutionalism | 97
- 3.6 Network Norms | 105

4. Governance | 121

4.1 Sources of Governance Theory | 122

4.2 Resource Governance | 125

4.3 Reconstructing Governance Theory | 128

4.4 Governance by Design | 142

Conclusion | 151

Literature | 155