

Race in Post-Racial Europe

An Intersectional Analysis

Stefanie C. Boulila

ROWMAN &
LITTLEFIELD
INTERNATIONAL

London • New York

Contents

Acknowledgements	ix
Introducing What Has Been Left Behind	1
I: Above and Beyond	13
1 Contesting European Racial Denial	15
2 Theorising Europe: Race, Gender and the Making of Modernity	27
II: Ambiguous Presence	45
3 Racing Postfeminism	47
4 Desiring the Exotic: Racialised Women in Postfeminist Sexual Culture	61
5 Treacherous Mothers, Terrorist Daughters: Migrant Women as Threats	79
III: Liberal Resistances	101
6 Race in Post-Homophobic Europe	103
7 But We Are All Different!: Diversity and the Depoliticisation of Antiracism	123
8 Resisting Intersectionality	139
Bibliography	153
Index	173
About the Author	181